

ISO 17100 Translation services

The ISO 17100 standard is aimed at companies providing translation services as well as organisations that handle their own translations.

It can be easily combined with the ISO 9001 standard due to having a similar structure. It defines the proficiencies and qualifications required by the staff in charge of translation tasks: translators, reviewers and other professionals.

The standard is based on the following requirements:

- Resources
- Pre-production processes and activities
- Production processes
- Post-production processes
- Monitoring every project before it is delivered to the client

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF ISO 17100?

- It provides a guarantee to clients that an external entity is certifying compliance with the requirements of the standard
- It provides added value to the company, setting it apart from its competitors
- It facilitates operating in foreign markets due to being an internationally recognised standard
- It contributes to expanding the portfolio of potential clients

CAN YOUR COMPANY RECEIVE THE ISO 17100 CERTIFICATION?

Any company of any size and organisational structure can apply for the certification.

WHY CHOOSE CERTIFYING WITH APPLUS+ CERTIFICATION?

Applus+ Certification, part of the Applus+ Group, specializes in the certification of management systems. Operating under the principles of independence and impartiality, we help our clients fight corruption and bribery in their organizations by certifying rigorous compliance with the requirements of each standard. Our teams are multidisciplinary and our professionals are experts in management system auditing.